

Dear All, We are happy to announce the launching of a new website constructed for the IPS 2021 conference. The website link can be found here, and at the IPS website. The minisite offers all the relevant information regarding the conference: program,

Dear Members of the IPS,

We are happy to announce the launching of a new website constructed for the IPS 2021 conference.

The website link can be found , and at the .

The minisite offers all the relevant information regarding the conference: program, invited speakers and links to and

Please note the abstract submission deadline is fast approaching and we urge you to quickly submit your abstract.

Early bird registration will also end on January the 22-th!

We are also happy to inform you that there will be prizes awarded for best posters in the poster session.

With best regards,
The organizing committee.

Newsletter Items: